

LAJA COUNTRY LOT 5

A quiet expanse awaits in the San Miguel countryside. Two thousand square meters unfold within a gated community, offering a canvas of open space and gentle light. The air here carries the scent of earth and distant hills. This is a place for quiet reflection, for creating a sanctuary removed from the city's pulse. Here, privacy is inherent, a natural part of the generous surroundings. You are afforded the luxury of both solitude and connection, within a well-tended environment. The Laja Country Lot presents an invitation to design a life lived with intention. It is a space to imagine, to build, to find a rhythm attuned to the natural world. This is a property where possibilities are as wide as the horizon.
